The Chicago Eagle numbers among its subscribers the most influential, most prosperous and most respected men in Chicago.

It reaches nearly every man of standing in the community and all men who are molders of public opinion or directors of public affairs.

It is the guide, mentor and friend of every political leader of every shade of opinion.

It is read by Government, State, County and City Officials.

It is read by a big percentage of the legal fraternity, including bench and bar.

It is the favorite of Chicago's leading business men.

It reaches all classes in their homes.

It is read by the Fire Department.

It is read by the Police Department.

It is in every public office and every public library.

It is not controlled by any cheap, cheap or crooked advertising agency.

In the twenty-one years of its existence it has managed to build up a large circulation and great business without the aid of professional advertising chicanery.

That is why it is so independent, so popular and so strong.

The Chicago Eagle is one paper that has never depended upon advertising agents for a circulation. It has one of its own.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The trench dug in newly paved Webster avenue to lay pipes has been filled with sand and the slabs of asphalt that were cut out have been laid on top and pounded in. No attempt whatever has been made to replace the concrete foundation which was chipped out. There are two ways of dealing with boards of local improvement—the rope and the grand jury. The grand jury is the legal method.

"Weighing" machines that are invariably out of order and gum machines that don't give out gum, are the regular thing on the elevated platforms. How long are they going to stay there?

Fresh blood is needed on the municipal bench.

County Recorder Abel Davis announced on Monday that he will give the county his salary of $9,000 a year until the end of his present term of office, in eighteen months. He made this announcement following his decision not to resign his duties as newly elected president of the Real Estate Title and Trust Company.

"When I concluded some months ago to accept the presidency of the Real Estate Title and Trust Company I planned to resign as recorder," said Mr. Davis. "I found, however, that there was no provision in the law covering succession in case of my resignation and that there would be no one authorized to act as recorder."

"Fearing that in consequence a chaotic condition would result, I decided to serve out my term. For me to resign now would only involve titles in transactions to be registered, as no legal officer would be on hand to register them. In order to avoid any possible unfairness to the county I
